Public Aid Organization

The Public Aid Organization

It is a non-governmental, independent, and non-profit organization that operates based on a humanitarian approach grounded in a strategic plan aimed at promoting and entrenching the principles of human rights and building a developed civil society, in alignment with the global vision for sustainable development. The organization was established in 1992 by a group of volunteers and holds consultative status with the United Nations Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC).

Vision

A world where individuals live in full enjoyment of their rights and freedom of choice

Mission

Our organization is an independent, non-governmental, non-profit entity that serves the public interest. It is responsive, adaptable, and open to both national and global perspectives. We operate in line with our humanitarian values, working to improve the quality of life, promote human rights and democracy, and build an effective, progressive civil society. We support human development and protect individual choices through peacebuilding and the promotion of peaceful coexistence. We also work to strengthen the capacities of individuals and communities, encourage participation in decision-making, and promote resilience to prevent potential risks.
